

29 types of injuries

Choosing the correlation measure

TEST

whether data are normally distributed or not

COMPARE

the similarity of correlation coefficients from different correlation measures which the most suitable correlation measure can capture biological relationships between variables

IDENTIFY

Pearson correlation

Spearman correlation

Kendall' correlation

Biweight mid-correlation

Correlation Matrix

Network model

Crop health survey data

5 production environments